

SRS Launches Healthcare Practice, Appoints Industry Leaders

Concord, MA – July 24, 2008. Strategic Risk Solutions (SRS), a provider of captive management and consulting services announced today the launch of its healthcare industry practice. The industry practice will co-ordinate services provided to clients in the Healthcare industry regardless of domicile and captive structure.

“The Healthcare industry represents an important and growing sector of our business and it is not limited to Cayman. We are working with captives from different areas of the healthcare industry across all domiciles”, said Brady Young, President and CEO of SRS. “The creation of the industry practice recognizes a need to bring consistency of service and the cross-fertilization of ideas within SRS to better serve our clients in this industry”.

Seamus Tivnan and Wayne Cowan will jointly head the Healthcare industry practice. Both are Directors of Strategic Risk Solutions (Cayman) Limited. “SRS and its staff have worked with most forms of healthcare organizations and practitioners. The industry practice will allow us to institutionalize that knowledge and make it available across the firm” said Cowan. “This initiative will allow us to offer solutions and services that are truly domicile-neutral and which seamlessly span onshore and offshore captives” added Tivnan.

Strategic Risk Solutions currently manages healthcare captives in Cayman, Bermuda, Vermont and South Carolina. SRS’s clients include healthcare institutions, both for profit and not-for-profit, physicians groups, long-term care companies, and service providers to the healthcare industry. Collectively healthcare captives represent approximately 30% of the company’s clients.
