

Strategic Risk Solutions Expands South Carolina Operations.

Waltham, MA - August 17, 2007 – Strategic Risk Solutions (SRS) today announced that it has expanded its operations in South Carolina through the hiring of Laura Roemer. Laura will be based in Charleston. She will serve as the local compliance officer and oversee the management of SRS's clients in the domicile.

Laura was previously with the Crusader International Group where she managed captives for both Meeting Street Management Company in South Carolina and Potomac Captive Managers in the District of Columbia. She has experience managing pure captives, risk retention groups and segregated cell captives. She is a graduate of Elon University with a double major in Accounting and Business Administration.

"We are pleased that Laura is joining SRS. Her experience managing captives in South Carolina will be invaluable as we expand our activities in the state", said Brady Young, President of SRS. "We are committed to South Carolina as a domicile and we are excited about the expanded local presence", added Young. Laura will also bring additional experience in the management of risk retention groups to SRS and will support the company's management activities in the District of Columbia.

"South Carolina continues to grow as a captive domicile and is poised to become the second largest US captive domicile. We have worked with SRS for a number of years and are pleased that they have decided to expand their operations here. We look forward to working with the local team", said Clayton Ingram, Director of Business Development for the South Carolina Department of Insurance.

SRS has been managing captives in South Carolina since 2003. "We have been pleased with the management and consulting services SRS has provided to our South Carolina captive. The establishment of a local office shows an additional commitment to clients like us", said Timothy Baker, Chief Financial Officer, Mears Transportation.
