Definitions and Operations

What is a captive?

A captive insurance company is an insurance company owned and controlled by its insured(s) with the primary role of insuring the risk exposure of its owner(s) and affiliates.

What is a Protected Cell Captive insurer?

A unique form of onshore rent-a-captive or segregated cell facility. Often referred to as a "condo captive", rent-a-captives are typically simpler to establish and less expensive to operate. Assets and liabilities of each cell are "walled off" from the other cells in the structure creating an experience similar to a stand-alone captive without the time and administrative commitment.
