Your Partner for Captive Expertise

Leverage SRS's Global Leadership and Local Expertise

South America's growing economies and unique risk landscapes present tremendous opportunities for businesses to optimize their insurance strategies through captive solutions. With a physical presence in Colombia, Strategic Risk Solutions (SRS) is uniquely positioned to assist South American businesses in leveraging the benefits of captives—whether through establishing a new captive, transferring management, or exploring alternative risk strategies.

While South America itself is still maturing as a region for captive domiciles, SRS provides businesses with direct access to the world's leading offshore domiciles, including Bermuda, Cayman, Vermont, and Europe, allowing South American companies to take advantage of proven regulatory frameworks, global reinsurance markets, and advanced captive structures.

Why South American Businesses Should Partner with SRS

1. Local Presence in Colombia

Our Colombian office acts as a gateway for businesses across South America, providing in-market expertise and direct access to SRS's global network. With on-the-ground knowledge of regional industries and risks, our team ensures seamless collaboration tailored to the specific needs of South American companies.

2. Access to Leading Offshore Domiciles

SRS helps South American businesses evaluate and establish captives in world-class jurisdictions, including:

- Bermuda: A premier global hub for captives, offering innovative structures such as Insurance-Linked Securities (ILS) and cell captives.
- Cayman Islands: Known for its efficiency and expertise in healthcare, group captives, and reinsurance programs.
- Vermont and U.S. Domiciles: Providing comprehensive risk solutions tailored to diverse industry needs.
- Europe: Offering access to EU-based regulations and proximity to global markets.

3. Expertise in Transferring Captive Management

For South American companies with existing captives, SRS specializes in the smooth transfer of captive management. Our team ensures a seamless transition, integrating global best practices and streamlining operations to maximize financial and operational efficiency.

How SRS Can Help South American Businesses

1. Tailored Risk Strategies

We work with clients across industries—including agriculture, energy, logistics, and healthcare—to develop custom captive insurance solutions. By leveraging our global reach, we help South American businesses address challenges like:

- Commodity price volatility
- Supply chain disruptions
- Environmental liabilities
- Employee health and benefit risks

2. Access to Advanced Captive Solutions

SRS connects South American businesses to the latest innovations in captive insurance, including:

- Parametric Insurance: Addressing unpredictable risks such as natural disasters with data-driven payouts.
- ILS and Reinsurance: Leveraging global capital markets to expand risk management capacity.
- Group Captives: Providing cost-sharing and enhanced risk management for small-to-midsize businesses.

3. Streamlined Compliance and Reporting

With in-depth knowledge of offshore regulations and global standards, SRS ensures that captives are not only compliant but also optimized for long-term success.
